OBITUARY.

Philip Lockwood Green, M. D., was born in Perry township, Lake County, Ohio, on June 21, 1837.

He was the son of Amos M. and Sarah Lockwood Green. His two brothers, James Loren and Andrew Perry and one sister Abigail Green Chilcote preceded him to that better land. Two sisters, Mrs. Zilpha Sprague and Mrs. Ida Green Carey survive and greatly mourn the death of their dear brother.

His early life was spent among the pioneers of Ohio, and he well knew the hardships those early settlers endured. In 1853, his father moved from Ohio and settled in Vermontville township, Eaton County, Michigan, where the parents spent their remaining years.

It was Dr. Green's earliest ambition to have a good education, and many were the struggles he endured to accomplish his purpose. By his untiring efforts he finally was able to teach school and by teaching awhile and attending college as long as he could, this self-made man became one of the most scholarly men.

He attended Olivet college and Ypsilanti, graduating from the latter institution with honors. He had a remarkable knowledge of languages, especially Latin, Hebrew and Greek. So modest and unassuming people
