CHATFIELD-FARRAH ACCIDENT

Thursday morning when Otis Farrah and Eli Chatfield with their families were going to Nashville after repairs for a neighbor's car, as they were nearing the railroad crossing, one-half mile east of Nashville, the west bound noon flyer, approached from behind them. As they were close to the track the train hit the front of the auto, which Mr. Farrah was driving, turning it around and throwing the occupants out. Eli Chatfield escaped uninjured as he jumped. Maude Farrah, Louisa Chatfield and infant son were killed. Charles Farrah received a broken collar bone, and several minor bruises. Otis Farrah suffered a badly bruised knee.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness and sympathy, for the beautiful flowers, also for the fruit and toys sent Charlie.

Words fail to express our appreciation, but such kindness will never be forgotten.
