

Quincy OBITUARY. 1909

Philip Lockwood Green, M. D., was born in Perry township, Lake County, Ohio, on June 21, 1837.

He was the son of Amos M. and Sarah Lockwood Green. His two brothers, James Loren and Andrew Perry and one sister Abigail Green Chilcote preceded him to that better land. Two sisters, Mrs. Zilpha Sprague and Mrs. Ida Green Carey survive and greatly mourn the death of their dear brother.

His early life was spent among the pioneers of Ohio, and he well knew the hardships those early settlers endured. In 1853, his father moved from Ohio and settled in Vermontville township, Eaton County, Michigan, where the parents spent their remaining years.

THE LATE DR. P. L. GREEN

It was Dr. Green's earliest ambition to have a good education, and many were the struggles he endured to accomplish his purpose. By his untiring efforts he finally was able to teach school and by teaching awhile and attending college as long as he could, this self-made man became one of the most scholarly men.

He attended Olivet college and Ypsilanti, graduating from the latter institution with honors. He had a remarkable knowledge of languages, especially Latin, Hebrew and Greek. So modest and unassuming people who came in contact with this wonderful mind were charmed with his rare intellect. As a school man he was successful and loved the work. He was superintendent of schools at De-catur, Mich., and Michigan City, Indiana, where he stood high in his profession.

While at Michigan City, during Civil War times, he responded to our country's call and helped to organize a company, serving as Lieutenant. This company was under General Robert Milroy. At the close of the war, he entered the University of Michigan to study medicine. Graduating from Ann Arbor he began the practice of his profession in Vermontville in 1870, where he was a successful physician and surgeon for forty years.

Although the knowledge in his profession is constantly broadening and changing, he always kept up well with the times and took post-graduate courses at Cleveland, Chicago and New York.

Entering most of the homes in the surrounding community in a professional way he was a true and sincere friend. His sympathetic and deeply religious nature made his influence felt everywhere he would go. In his early youth he became a Christian and through his entire life he has been a powerful force in religious work. At the age of fourteen with some of his companions he organized a weekly prayer-meeting in Ohio which accomplished much in those early times and helped to make leaders in religious work for the future.

On July 4, 1875, he was united in marriage to Zuilla S. Moyer. The home life of Dr. and Mrs. Green was ideal. It can be truthfully said that their's was the happiest of homes. When the Angel of Death entered this household on January 29, 1909, and carried away the loving wife, there seemed to be so little left here to hold her companion, with us, for he was anxiously awaiting the call to join his loved ones on the better shore.

Seven years ago, Karl, aged fifteen, the son and joy of their hearts, was called to that home above to welcome his affectionate parents so soon.

While making a visit with his nieces near Mackinaw, Ill., Dr. Green became ill, and on July 7, 1909, he passed away. The funeral was held at the Congregational church on
