Luella Watrous death sudden

The citizens of Nashville were shocked to learn of the death, early Wednesday morning, of Mrs. Myrton Watrous.

Mrs. Watrous was apparently feeling in good health on Tuesday and entertained her bridge club that day. She was taken ill early Wednesday morning and was rushed to Penneck Hospital where she died apparently of a heart attack.

She was born Feb. 27, 1903, in Vermontville, the daughter of Willie and Alice (Campbell) Hunt. She was married to Myrton Watrous July 28, 1928, in Nashville.

She was a member of the Laurel Chapter 31, of the Order of the Eastern Star, in Nashville, and was active in the work of the Barry County Special Education School in Hastings.

Mrs. Watrous is survived by her husband, Myrton; a son, Dennis Lee; and a brother, Carl Hunt, of Allen Park.

Funeral services will be held from the Vogt Funeral Home in Nashville on Friday, May 6, at 2 p.m. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery, Nashville.
