Catherine Ward

Mrs. Catherine (Kate) Ward, 84, of 501 South Main, Vermontville, the widow of Worth Ward, died Friday afternoon in the American Legion Hospital, Springfield.

She was born February 21, 1885, in Vermontville Township, a daughter of Andred and Emma (Kenworthy) Green, and had been a lifelong resident of the area. On September 5, 1905, she was married in Vermontville to Worth Ward. He died about two years ago.

The survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Carl (Ruth) Banta of Battle Creek, Mrs. Eldon (Myrtle) Stillwell of Kalamazoo and Mrs. Elmer (Alice) Conrad of Charlotte; four grandchildren; six great-grandchildren; two great great grandchildren, and four sisters, Mrs. Ruby Hammond of Grand Ledge, Mrs. Mary Hull of Montclair, New Jersey, Mrs. Doris Carney of Charlotte and Mrs. Leta Nagle of Vermontville.

Services were held Monday at 1:30 p. m. from the Vermontville Congregational Church with the Rev. Leonard Maunder of the local church and the Rev. Harold Mann, pastor of the Trinity United Methodist Church in Battle Creek, officiating.

Burial was made in Woodlawn Cemetery, Vermontville.

WED 67 YEARS—Mr. and Mrs. John Guy, who have lived at 458 Elm, Vermontville, the past 25 years, will observe their 67th wedding anniversary Sunday. No special celebration has been planned. It was in the parsonage of Rev. C. D. Jarvis, then pastor of the Kilpatrick church near Woodland that the former Miss Addie Shaffer and John Guy were married. They started housekeeping on a farm in Sunfield Township. During most of their lives they were farmers, and in addition Mr. Guy worked in a mill in Johannesburg and as a carpenter. Mrs. Guy has pieced a quilt as a wedding present for each of her 21 grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Guy have two daughters, Mrs. Letha McDiarmid of Sunfield and Miss Irene Guy, who lives with her parents; two sons, Carl of R. I, Mulliken, and Archie of Vermontville; 66 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.
